References:

As a publication that believes in inclusiveness and freedom to make both the publication and readership easy, we don't tie and limit authors to do referencing in a particular style. The author(s) can use any recognized referencing style including but not limited to APA, MLA, Chicago, Vancouver, Harvard, IEEE, Turabian etc.

The authors must insure that the referencing style is consistent in the article and the guideline of that particular referencing style has been adhered to.
